@ Fusionopolis

WHAT IT OFFERS

“The curriculum and activities at Learning Vision are child-centred. Respect for children’s needs and their interests is seen as important as character building, learning development and academic progression. The learning environment is child-focused and invites children to engage in conversations with peers and teachers, with regular reminders of what they have learnt through the week. The learning programme focuses on children’s physical, cognitive, social and emotional development through a variety of activities.”

WHAT PARENTS SAY

Camilla Harrison, Canadian Siena Carron (4.5), Kindergarten 1

“I’d heard great things about Learning Vision from a friend who had enrolled her child; this included the wonderful teachers, happy students and great space that just happened to be near our home. It was an easy choice. My daughter is always talking about her speech and drama class (recently starring as the Gruffalo herself!), all the preparations for special events and learning experiences (Mother’s Day, Donation Drives, and so on) and how much she enjoys “lessons”. I love that her education spans the emotional, social, artistic as well as academic – it’s very well rounded. Communication between school and home is very special for us. My daughter has a condition where her teachers have to give her medicine daily. The teacher provides me with constant feedback and the option to touch base if I need. Regular communication is easy and always available; I feel truly connected. My husband and I couldn’t be happier with Learning Vision and we feel grateful for all the amazing work they do.”
